

Report Of Workshop On Research Methodology

Research is "creative and systematic work undertaken to increase the stock of knowledge".

On 26th October 2019 P G Department of Commerce conducted a work shop on Research Methodology by Dr. Narayanan Pandala C R. The workshop was inaugurated by the Principal Dr Suman Alexander and HOD Dr Sumi Alex by 9.15 A.M. All the P G students of Commerce as well as other teachers of the Department were present in this workshop. Through this workshop the students were able to understand exactly what the Research Methodology is. Various types of Research process of research, how to identify a research problem, differentiation of various research design, sampling techniques and how to determine the size sample etc were clearly discussed in forenoon section. There was also a doubt clearance section of the class taken in the morning just before lunch break.

The workshop started exactly after past one after lunch break. The purpose of the afternoon section was to prepare the students to prepare an article in international level. Different types of articles in international and national level were shown to the students. Sir Pandala showed the model to the students and explained exactly the format in which the article should be written. Various citation styles were explained in details. Sir Pandala told the students what to look for in detail when writing an article. There was also a doubt clearance section regarding how to write an article. Through this workshop the students were able to know the subject Research Methodology more closely.

Dr Pandala was honoured by Principle Dr Suman Alexander and HOD Dr Sumi Alex. Kevin Thomas Viloth and Arun Mohan thanked Dr Pandala for presenting the subject as Research Methodology in a way that students can understand. The work shop winded up at 4. 30 pm